Noon Rally; Band Attends Frosh Game

A uniformed San Jose State band will turn out tonight for the first home football game of the season, it was announced at yesterday's Rally committee meeting. The band and Spartan rooters will sit on the east side of the stadium.

Rally for the Las Vegas game will take place at 12:30 today in Morris Dailey auditorium. Coach Wilbur Hubbard will introduce each of the 60 members of the Yells will be led by Ken McGill and Al Johnson.

Members of the Rally committee, wearing official arm bands, will arrive at the stadium at 7 o'clock tonight to rope off an official rooting section. All student body members are reminded to wear white shirts or sweaters and rooters caps in order that they may sit in the rooting section. Rooters caps are now on sale at the Spartan Shop.

"I hope everyone realizes that the rooting section is for all State students, not for just Rally committee members," says Irene Hull, committee chairman. "The job of the Rally committee is not to make up the rooting section, but to keep order in a rooting section consisting of the entire student body."

Rally Tomorrow For Kappa Kappa

Claire Canevari and Nancy Lynn will preside at a rally for the third annual Kappa Kappa tomorrow at 12:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

The two promise some surprise entertainment for the Kappa which, according to them, will be snappy, happy, and full of life.

"You'll see things done at the Kappa that have never been done before," says Miss Canevari. "Bring your friends, relax and live."

She adds, "Remember, both men and women can come. Many seem to think the Kappa is only for girls."

Psychology Club Elects Officers

At a noon meeting of the Psychology club yesterday, officers for the new year were elected as follows: Helen Bailey, president; Eleanor Herzing, vice-president; Mary Katherine Kelley, secretary-treasurer.

The Psychology club membership includes both upper division and lower division students. One noon meeting and one evening meeting are usually held each month.

The club held its first meeting of 1945-46 last Tuesday noon. Members discussed program plans for the ensuing year and considered arranging for lectures and demonstrations which all interested persons could attend.

Talent Sign-up

Student talent for coming activities is now being solicited by Milo Badger, ASB president.

All those who can perform in any way, write script, or do technical work are asked to register with the Student Council. Names together with a brief description of the acts, should be left in the organizations' "S" box in the Spartan Shop.

"This is no time to be modest," urges Badger. "If you think you have some talent, or if you know of someone else who has, please let us know."

SENIORS SET DATE FOR GET-TOGETHER

Seniors yesterday set November 30 as the date for the class overnight get-together, providing the proper releases can be obtained. The junior-senior mixer, previously scheduled for that Friday evening, has been moved to November 27 by agreement with the third year class.

Laverne Knapp and Jackie George were named co-chairmen of the mixer, to work in conjunction with the junior appointees. Chairmen for the overnight are Ruth Peaslee and Pat Dunlavy, with additional committee members to be appointed. Asilomar, near Pacific Grove, and Monte Toyon, 15 miles beyond Santa Cruz in the hills, are two places under consideration for the location.

Discussion on holding orientation during winter quarter resulted in a delay until next Tuesday's meeting. Class members voted to have a double page in La Torre, including pictures of the two presidents and, if possible, informal shots of class activities.

President Marge Hopper assigned Winnie Berticevich to investigate senior announcements.

AWA Meets Today Plans Play Day

Regular AWA meeting, which was originally postponed that women might help decorate for the jinx, will be held today in room S112 at 4 p.m., since the jinx is now scheduled for November 4.

Final plans for the play day at Stanford Saturday will be made during the meeting today, states Marge Hopper, chairman. Sign-up sheets, still open to women wishing to participate in the activities, are available in the Women's gym. Information relating to the hours practices are held for the various sports to be played Saturday may be obtained from Miss Margaretta Frisroe.

AWA President Roberta Ramsey invites all women students to attend today's meeting.

Song Festival Is Changed To Nov. 29

The date of Autumn Nocturne, AWA song festival, has been changed from November 22 to November 29 because of Thanksgiving vacation.

Nancy Lynn, chairman, states: "Although the date has been altered, the rules will remain the same."

Women and men are both eligible to participate in the Song fest. The only requirement is that they must sing in a group of eight or more, excluding entire groups from recognized organizations on campus. Each group is limited to one song, which may not be an original composition, although original arrangements will be accepted. Musical scores may range from jingles to arias.

November 2 is the deadline for all application blanks. Applications are to be submitted to "Song Fest" in box 8 in the Spartan Shop. (Clip application blank on page 2.)

The winning ensemble will be chosen by a group of judges, and a winning prize will be presented to the winners. If there are enough all-male, all-women, and mixed groups entered in the fest three divisions will be used in judging. The best presentation in each classification will then receive a prize.

CHRISTMAS DANCE TO BE DECEMBER 15

Decorations from the "Witch's Waltz" disappeared mysteriously Friday night, it was announced at yesterday's Social Affairs committee to prevent this in the future.

Also under discussion at the meeting were the coming dances of the quarter. It was planned that one of the gymnasiums be open tonight after the football game, for those students who would like to dance to off-the-record music.

The Christmas Dance will be held in the Scottish Rite Temple on December 15. It will be semi-formal, and bids will be sold for $1.00. Beverly Sack was appointed head of the orchestra committee.

The committee also decided to buy a full page for the 1946 La Torre.

POM-PON SALE STARTS TODAY

"Buy your pom-pom early," advises Nancy Nyman, chairman of the pom-pom sale sponsored by Delta Beta Sigma sorority beginning today.

"Because of the paper shortage there might not be enough to go around," she warns.

Members of the sorority have been making pom-poms to sell at games and rallies. They will go on sale for the first time at today's rally and tonight's game. Price is 25 cents apiece.

All profit from the sale will go to the football fund.

SPARTANS UNDERDOGS IN HOME OPENER TONIGHT

LAS VEGAS ARMY FLYERS BRING COLLEGE STARS TO PLAY STATERS

By WARREN BRADY

The Spartan gridders will take the role of the underdog tonight when the Las Vegas Army Airbase invades Spartan stadium at 8 o'clock. Boasting of players from several eastern and southern universities, the Indians from Nevada will be led by left Halfback Hill, diminutive scat back who formerly played with the University of Vanderbilt freshmen.

MORE STARS

Along with Hill in the Indian backfield will be Quarterback Campbell, who previously played with Texas Tech. Campbell was All-Border conference in '41 and '42. DeArmond, formerly of Mississippi university, at fullback, and Wallsmith at right half, will round out their backfield.

S. J. REVAMPED

The Spartan freshmen will take the field with a somewhat revamped backfield. Making his first start at the key quarterback spot will be Pete Denevi, former all-SCVAL halfback from Los Gatos. Denevi is a triple-threat man, and will do most of the kicking and passing.

At left half will be Archie Chajonian, fleet-footed back from Mission High school. Chajonian played an outstanding game last week at Salinas. Right half will be held down by Wil Concklin, another fast, elusive back who has looked very impressive in his first two games. Frank Davilla, moved over from the quarterback position, will start at the fullback spot.

Sophs Lead Frosh 25-0 In Coming Mixer

Sophomores already have the edge over the freshmen in their coming mixer with the 25 points they received from the War Chest drive. Although the freshmen collected $469.19 and the sophs only $303.37, the sophs were able to take the drive as the point system was based on class average.

Another meeting of the sophomore cabinet will be held today in room 2 of the Art wing to further plans for the mixer and class party. The class party will be held November 11 at the Roosevelt high school, with Patsy Young and Frances Fitzgerald in charge. Other committees: are Pat Cribari, decorations; Jocelyn Capp, and Barbara Jensen, refreshments; Aloha Stokes, posters.

In charge of the mixer, November 9, are Bev Sack and Ben Petrus. Other committees are: Jerry Evans and Dwight Mathieson in charge of the point system; Cal Magnuson and Louise Ramos, dance; Bonnie Lingenfelter, posters.

Membership Lists

The campus organizations named below failed to submit lists of membership to the Student Council before the noon deadline yesterday, and automatically lost all campus privileges until such time as lists are turned in to the Student Court. They will be given notice to appear before the Court at its next scheduled meeting:

Delta Nu Theta, Epsilon Pi Tau, Lambda Gamma Alpha, Pre-Med club.

DR. MYERS IS NEW PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the San Jose chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Dr. Howard Myers, head of the Math department, was elected president.

Miss Mary Booth, head of the Occupational Therapy department, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The program committee for the new year which was appointed by Dr. Myers, includes Miss Meta Gordoy of the Foreign Language department, Dr. Esther Shepherd of the English department, and Dr. Raymond Mosher of the Psychology department.

Next meeting of the year will be on December 3.

JAPAN SUBJECT FOR RETREAT

Student Christian Association's retreat sponsored by the Race Relations committee was successfully handled under the leadership of the Rev. Norio Ozaki and SCA Executive Secretary Bob James.

Rev. Ozaki, Japanese-American minister from Oakland, emphasized in his talks to the students that Japan cannot be made into a democracy merely by military proclamation, and discussed ways and means of educating the people of that country to the ways of peaceful non-aggressive government.

He quoted as typical of the attitude of Japanese nationals the statement of a naval officer who said that Japan would be "willing to forget the atom bomb attacks" if we in America would "forget Pearl Harbor."

War, Victory, Peace, Theme Of Library Armistice Day Exhibit

Using as her theme, "War, Victory, and Peace," Miss Maude Coleman of the Arts Reading room has just completed an exhibit in observance of Armistice Day.

The exhibit, shown in the display case on the landing below the Arts Reading room, features original etchings entitled, "Shadows," "Vondrous, Prague," and "Birch Patterns."

With the etchings, Miss Coleman has displayed the music which seems to her to catch the spirit of each of these periods, war, victory, and peace. Books about the music and its composers are also shown.

For the section on war, she has chosen Beethoven's powerful Symphony in E flat, the "Eroica," into which, according to one author, Beethoven put all his superb vitality, giving his conception of a true hero's qualities. The album of "Eroica," made by the New York Philharmonic orchestra conducted by Bruno Walter, is in the same section. Also under "war" is Hayden's Eleventh Symphony, his Military Symphony, in G major.

In the victory section, are the music of Beethoven's Sonata No. 8, "Pathetique," two books about his Symphony No. 5, characterized by one critic as a drama of destiny—communicating the exhaustion longing, defiance, victory of the battle of a Titan against the blows of the gods, and one on the life of the composer.

For the peace section, Miss Coleman has selected books on Anton Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 in E minor (The New World) and Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, and the music of "Goin' Home," adapted from "The New World."

STAGE TALENT NOT NECESSARY BUT IT HELPS

Who said that you have to be made for a dramatic role? Who said you have to live the part? Jo Hildebrand and Virginia Beattie are quite normal, although they portray the two demented sisters in "Ladies in Retirement." At least their loyal friends maintain they act reasonably rational more often than not.

Miss Hildegard, sophomore speech major, well-known about the Little Theater, has the unusual ambition of wanting to go on the stage—not the cinema or radio, but the legitimate theater. Other than the footlights, though, Jo has one gnawing desire. That is to possess thousands of colored shoe strings. Right now she has a bang-up start with half a dozen pair. (It is repeated here that Jo is quite normal.)

Now, Virginia Beattie, oddly enough, is not a Speech department representative but a G. E. major interested in drama. A junior transfer from University of Oregon, Miss Beattie likes to work in drama for small children. She would like to work in theater projects in schools.

From all appearances these girls are coming along very nicely in the third week of rehearsals, so watch out for them next week; November 8, 9, 10.
